This week

.Probably it is open. However, Lion 1VP Will BERG hasn't informed your BE what programs are scheduled.

Next week

There isn't a next week. At least for Noontimers. We will be dark the day after Thanksgiving.

Last week

Mr. Joel Geffen, President of On-Site Health Screening, dropped by to tell us all how we should have our bodies screened.

Ramblings from Ross

Shame on you if you missed last Friday and Saturday night's functions. Those of us who attended had a fine time, thanks to Lion Rick's careful planning. Friday's group of Lion's leaders was stimulating and the food was great. Saturday's "Academy Awards" to many Noontimers was generally funny, sometimes hilarious, and upon occasion quite moving. Now let's concentrate on the Christmas bash on December 8 at the Tower Club. Lion Byron can still use all the help he can get, although he is, as usual, in control of the planning.

I hope all board members can attend the bored meeting at Lion Todd's next Wednesday night. Yes, it is the night before Thanksgiving, but so what? It's the night before, not the day of celebration. See you there?

Winners

Lion George THOMPSON has Free Fines, while Lion Loyal FRAZIER is our Greeter. Lion Byron WEDEMEYER pocketed $15 in Attendance Money so Lion D Otto SCHIMMEL will only grab $5 if he makes it today. In the Mad Marble Malarkey, Lion John FARRAR continued his lucky streak by having the winning ticket, but wasn't able to parlay it into real money. He missed $326.

Holiday party

Let Lion Byron WEDEMEYER know what auctions items you will be providing and get your reservations in. Consider inviting friends, family, business associates and people off the street for this fabulous evening.

Charter night

Fabulous evening. Tons of memories with 109 in attendance. Words won't do it justice and the pictures still fall short.

Special kudos to Lions C Andy STAY for a fantastic job as emcee and Lion RC Rick SMITH for organizing it all.
