Volume 50, Issue 23

December 19, 2003

This week

Our Special Guest today is Ms. Nadine Gamble, Director of the Navy Marine Corps Relief Society. She's a career Navy wife who decided it was time to give back to the military.

Next week

No meetings until January 9. We have no speaker lined up yet.

Last week

Demonstrating that he's pretty much in tune with Noontimer administrative proclivities, Lion 1VP Will BERG scheduled no program for the first Friday of the month and we have one on the last Friday.

It appears Lion Will has learned how to screw things up like a real Noontimer and is ready to ascend to our presidency. This is a real relief to those of us who detected way too much competence in Lion Will. We can rest easy now.

Ramblings from Ross

Looks like Lion Ross took his Christmas vacation early. Most assuredly, he has neglected his duties to his fellow Noontimers. No one ever accused Lion Ross of being too competent.

Winners

Lion D Dave TAPIE has Free Fines (free mortgages for all???) while Lion TT Scoop LISKEY is our Greeter. Considering the stiffness he normally "greet" we may be better off if he doesn't get here on time to greet us. Lion Loyal FRAZIER wasn't here so he won't win the $20 Attendance Prize even if he shows today. Lion D Dave TAPIE was lucky enough to have his ticket pulled for the Mad Marble Malarkey drawing. Alas, he wasn't lucky enough to win the $343.50 when he had Free Fines.

Holiday Party

We had fun at the Holiday Party. Naturally, we covered this in the last issue. However a quick inventory of the Calendar will reveal that your faithful BE has zero to talk about regarding upcoming activities.

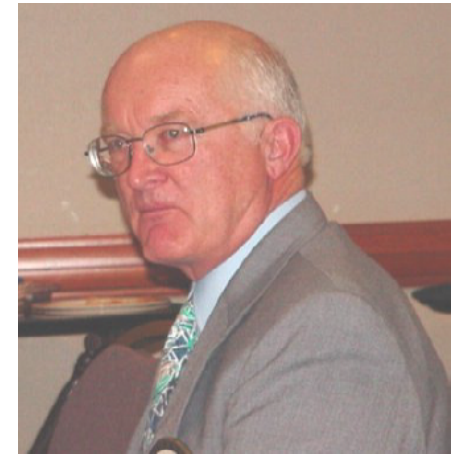

If anyone has any stuff to throw the BE's way, please pass it on. Otherwise these bulletins will be pretty boring.

But the Holiday party was great.

Can you hear me now???

I'm never doing another of these damn things. I don't get any help.

St. John's??? I think my water broke. What do I do now???
